Talk to the world for free

Are you ready to take on the world? Miglia's Dialog Phone lets you call anyone anywhere in the world for free.

Dialog is a wire free phone that offers perfect Skype and iChat AV integration, letting you chat for as long as you want to anyone in the world. Gone are the days of watching the clock when making a long distance call. Now you can call your family and friends every day and chat for hours, because every minute spent on the phone is completely free.

Also, Miglia's Dialog software application for Mac OS X offers a 3-in-1 phone book that lists your Skype, Skype OUT and iChat AV contacts. Finding and selecting your contacts is easier than ever before. PC users benefit from full integration with Skype, MSN, Yahoo Messenger and AIM.

This stylish and elegant phone is so easy to use that you will be wondering how you ever managed to live without it.

Easy to use

The fact that Dialog is so easy to use makes it simply irresistible.

Designed from the ground up as a phone for your computer, Dialog does away with traditional and redundant gimmicks, such as unnecessary LCD screens and number buttons.

The beauty of Dialog is that it leverages all the advantages of your computer to take phone communication to the next level.

Dialog features a call button and a volume control key, which can also be used to scroll through your list of contacts.

FREE calls anywhere

Sit back and make as many calls as you want from the comfort of your own desk, either at home or in the office.

Dialog is the perfect companion for Skype and iChat AV. Take the stress out of calling, as you say goodbye to expensive pricing schemes and say "hello" to anyone in the world leaving no excuse not to keep in touch with distant friends, family and work colleagues.

Dialog works perfectly with Skype Out, which lets you call landlines and cell phones at incredibly low rates.

Elegant and wire free

Dialog is compact and discreet, fitting in with your office or home environment. There are no wires to clutter up your desk space and you can use your phone within a 20 feet perimeter of your computer. After all a phone should be used as a phone.

Simply plug the wire free adapter into a USB port of your computer and start talking!

Skype and iChat AV integration

The Mac Dialog software application offers a 3-in-1 solution that integrates Skype, Skype OUT and iChat AV contacts in a single application.

You can sort your contact by first name, last name, service type (iChat or Skype) and to keep your phone book clean you can hide offline contacts. Managing your online telephony contacts reaches new levels of simplicity and power.

Works with Mac and PC

Mac users can enjoy Miglia's unique Dialog software application, which offers deep integration with Mac OS X and its applications.

PC users can also enjoy the Dialog Phone to its full extent by installing Dialog for PC, which offers full Skype integration and is compatible with almost any Instant Messaging application with voice support, such as MSN Messenger, Yahoo Messenger and many more.
